Opening of a new Kyriad hotel in Châteauroux Nord

Just in time for the Paris 2024 Olympic games, the city of Châteauroux, host of the shooting events, will have a new three-star hotel, strengthening the hospitality offerings in this region.

Led by four passionate investors, the Kyriad Châteauroux Nord - Airport opens its doors on June 17, 2024, after one year of construction.

This new hotel opening, the third in one month, highlights the Louvre Hotels Group's dynamic in its historical French market. It is also additional proof of its expansion objectives. The Group is committed to opening 200 hotels in France by 2028, within the context of its five-year strategic plan.

With its 63 rooms, of which 60 are doubles and twins, two family rooms, and one suite, the Kyriad Châteauroux Nord - Airport hotel was designed to welcome business and family travelers. The rooms, measuring from 19 to 41 square meters, were designed to offer all the necessary comforts with a modern and sleek décor, a spacious bathroom, a workspace with high-speed internet and a flat screen television.

Whether they are traveling for business or pleasure, clients will enjoy the numerous quality services including a pool, breakfast buffet, bar lounge and animal-friendly accommodations. The 68-space parking lot has three electric vehicle charging stations available, and IONITY quick charge stations are 100 meters from the hotel.

For businesses and professionals, the hotel has a 42 square-meter customizable seminar room which can accommodate up to 18 people for training workshops, meetings, or events. This versatile space can be set up according to the group's needs.

Ideally situated in the heart of the Grandéols zone, two minutes from the A20 highway, five minutes from the Châteauroux airport and ten minutes from the city center, the Kyriad Châteauroux Nord - Airport offers direct access to several amenities: restaurants, gyms, supermarkets, service stations, and the renowned MACH 36 event venue.

The hotel also plays a role in the local economy. In addition to hiring 10 staff members to ensure operations, it reached out to local companies for its construction. To highlight local products, the hotel offers a selection of wines from regional vineyards.
